v.

United States of America,

Respondent.

Presently before the Court is Respondent's Motion to Exclude the Testimony of Stuart Smith.¹ The government moves to exclude Mr. Smith's testimony on the grounds that (1) his opinions relate only to partner level defenses, which are outside of the Court's jurisdiction; and (2) his testimony consists of legal analysis and legal conclusions regarding the reasonableness of Petitioners' actions, and thus impermissibly invade the province of the Court. (Motion at 2.) Petitioner responds that Mr. Smith's opinions regarding the quality of the tax-opinion letters

¹ (United States' Motion Under Federal Rules of Evidence 401 and 702 to Exclude the Expert Report and Testimony of Stuart Smith, hereafter, "Motion," Docket Item No. 136 in C 04-4264; Docket Item No. 37 in C 05-2835; Docket Item No. 80 in C 05-1123; Docket Item No. 23 in C 05-3877; Docket Item No. 14 in C 05-1996; Docket Item No. 36 in C 04-4398; Docket Item No. 46 in C 04-04309; Docket Item No. 37 in C 04-4964.)

1 received by Petitioners will assist the jury in determining whether Petitioners acted reasonably in
2 entering the tax transactions at issue.²

3 Upon review, because Respondent's Motion is directed to the relevance, and not the 4 reliability of Mr. Smith's testimony under Daubert, the Court finds that Respondent's Motion would 5 be more properly heard as a motion in limine by the trial judge. Accordingly, in light of the Court's
6 pending retirement,³ the Court DENIES as premature Respondent's Motion to Exclude. Respondent
7 may re-notice its Motion upon reassignment to a new judge at the appropriate time.
